Hi Sarah,

We are downstairs in the lobby and there is a large line at security. They asked that someone from EPA come down and let us in. Thanks.

Bill,

Just following up to confirm that, as we just discussed, you will time your arrival for 2:35 today, to synchronize with Walter's schedule.

Sarah,

We are sorry to hear of Walter's conflict. We would like to have the meeting we planned with Walter and the rest of the EPA team with whom we met in February, so that we can have a complete and fulsome discussion. Please provide us with dates when that meeting can happen as soon as possible. In the meantime, if you think a meeting with us today, in the absence of Walter, for some or all of the meeting, will serve a useful purpose, we are more than willing to come over. Please let us know how you would like to proceed.

Bill and Dawn,

I need to let you know about an unfortunate development. Walter has an unavoidable conflict with the meeting scheduled for this afternoon. He will be returning from another commitment out of the office, and we expect he will arrive partway through the meeting. The exact arrival time cannot be predicted.

Walter might be able to participate by phone, until he arrives, but that is also uncertain.

We want to give the CPG the opportunity for the meeting that you were anticipating, i.e., with Walter in attendance. If you do not mind starting without Walter, then of course we remain available.

Please let me know how you would like to proceed.

-Sarah
